

LoopHear™ LH100

Self-contained portable unit designed to communicate with T-coil hearing aid users, cochlear implant wearers and induction receivers.

Ideal for one-on-one applications: office reception areas, counters, vehicles, small meetings.

Includes a built-in amplifier, external microphone and induction aerial loop.

Product Features

- Can be used semi-fixed or fully portable
- Light weight (710g)
- Long-lived batteries: 8 days in continuous use, 2 days in standby, 4 months when turned off
- Low battery indicator that flashes when the unit needs recharging
- Connection for headset with volume control
- Connection for external microphone

One Year Warranty