

SIDEKICK RECEIVER W/ STROBE

The Sidekick Receiver offers the same monitoring capabilities as the Good Vibrations Receiver, but is equipped with a flashing strobe light and you can also plug in the optional bed vibrator.

When the Sidekick receives a signal from a transmitter, the strobe light is activated and flashes for 10 seconds (or bed vibrator is activated). Depending on the source of the signal, one of the four different lights will appear under the appropriate symbol.

The Sidekick Receiver will monitor the telephone, doorbell, sound monitor, personal pager, smoke detector, fire alarm, door/window access, and has a range of up to 100 feet.

The power supply on the Sidekick receiver is UL listed and the strobe light is 110 candela, which meets requirements for fire.
